Conference Overview:

The International Scientific Conference "Towards a Better Future: Justice, Development, and Artificial Intelligence" aims to explore the transformative potential of artificial intelligence in building a just, inclusive world, and more successful sustainable development. With its rapid advancement, AI's impact on legal systems and human rights is becoming increasingly significant.

The conference seeks to provide answers to whether artificial intelligence can strengthen access to justice and reduce inequalities while focusing on the ethical challenges and risks of misuse associated with its application.

Additionally, the focus will be on the role of artificial intelligence in the processes of economic growth and sustainable development. Discussions will explain how AI-driven innovations can contribute to achieving global development goals and creating new opportunities for communities.

By engaging experts from academia, government institutions, and civil society, the conference aims to encourage a multidisciplinary dialogue.
